

GOMPERS SAYS FEDERATION IS NOT TO BLAME

UNION NOT DEAD, HE AVERS Tells of Support Given to Copper Miners and Other
Labor Organizations

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 29.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, defended his organization and its executive council in a speech before the convention of the United Mine Workers of America against charges made by Charles H. Meyer, president of the Western Union of Miners, Duncan McDonald of Illinois and others in the convention. Mr. Meyer charged that if the copper strike in Michigan should be lost, it would be due to the inactivity of the executive board of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Gompers asserted it would be impossible to levy a tax against the copper strike men of Michigan, and denied Mr. Meyer's charge that the executive council is made up of "rascals and fools."

After Mr. Gompers had concluded, McDonald announced he would speak to the convention in the morning, and asked the delegates to identify if he would be in this city. He said he would be in here as long as he possibly could and still see an engagement in New York city on Friday Saturday night. He said he would be also at 27.

criterion Mr. Gompers began, "The most important work this convention has done has consisted of attacks on the American Federation of Labor and its officers and discussing whether the president's salary shall be increased $1,000 a year. I don't know if the charges in the newspapers are true, but it was printed that it was declared in the convention here that the American Federation of Labor is reactionary, fossilised, worm-eaten and dead in the newspaper statement true."

Amid cheers McDonald said:

I made those statements and others like them."

"Only McDonald answers," Mr. Gompers continued. "Of the 11 men who compose the executive council, eight are teetotalers who never touch a drop of liquor. Two of the men are as moderate drinkers as any men who ever take a drink. For myself, I take a Recall that dead means the same thing. I submit that an organization is not dead if those and at the same time it is a nucleus for that means going backward. The history of the organization is that it is not dead.

Mr. Gompers directed attention to a number of letters which he said were over the signature of Duncan McDonald and published in a Chicago newspaper in 1911. He read from one of

REFUGES CLAIM THEY HAVE PLENTY MONEY

Confiscation of Property Nets Villa Large Sums for Revolution

JUARIZ, Mexico, Jan. 29.—Five million Mexican dollars, received up to today, is the amount of cash which the rebels under General Francisco Villa possess to carry on their revolution. In addition, they claim possession of much personal property, stores, cattle and land confiscated from rich families and valued at many millions.
The cash represents part of the wealth obtained within six months under the direction of General Villa. It was accumulated from forced loans on banks, merchants, mines, on the Terrazas and Orest families, and from taxation and import duties.
Rebel leaders said it would be impossible to estimate the actual wealth of the revolution, but if money was realized on all the property now in their possession the proceeds would be sufficient to run a government in the rebel territory for several years and the sources of revenue are increasing. The mines and cowboys are receiving on terms by which the rebels procure 10 per cent of the profits.
Villa Undergoes Operation.
The money now in the rebel treasury is to be converted into a new issue of currency to replace varied kinds of paper money now in circulation.
General Villa underwent an operation here today which was necessitated by a bullet wound received months ago. His condition was not serious. It was said he would be able to return to Chihuahua within a few days.
"Although we expect a hard fight at Torreón," said General Villa, "I would not be surprised if the defeat of the federals there would mean the downfall of Huerta. Unless he falls at Torreón, the gateway to the south, we shall probably have to fight right on to Mexico City."

Wants General Salazar.
Referring to Gen. Ynes Salazar, a federal volunteer general who escaped from Chihuahua, Mexico, and is now locked up in Marfa, Tex., for violating the neutrality law, General Villa said: "I wish the United States would turn him over to me. I would promise not to keep him in jail long."
Salazar incurred the wrath of Americans by executing Thomas Fountain, a citizen of this country, at Parral over the protest of the United States consul. Since his capture on this side, efforts have been made through Washington to have him turned over to the rebels.
FOREST FIRES
GREATLY REDUCED
The government places the total damage to national forest timber in Colorado during the past fire season at $900. In all 117 fires were extinguished by forest officers on government land within the national forests, of which number about 50 per cent were put out before any damage was done to the timber. Sixty-four fires were extinguished on private lands within and without the boundaries of the forests. $1,041.36 was expended in extinguishing fires on national forest lands, $144.95 on private lands inside the boundaries of the forests, and $186.48 on lands outside.
Cooperation from settlers and users of the forests in fighting fires was received to the amount of $738.81. No single fire on the national forests in Colorado did damage in excess of $100.

STORMY SESSION IS HOLD BY MICHIGAN LABOR FEDERATION

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 29.—After a series of sharp, bitter skirmishes over resolutions which kept the session in a turmoil, delegates representing every labor union of Michigan in session today imposed a weekly assessment of from five to 10 cents upon every employed union man or woman in the state, to provide a fund for the assistance of miners who are on strike in the Calumet copper region. The resolution practically allows each person affected to contribute a weekly amount which he feels he can afford. The assessment will be levied on about 70,000 persons, according to Claude O. Taylor, president of the State Federation of Labor.
A resolution urging the American Federation of Labor to call a nationwide strike, in sympathy with the Calumet strikers, was supported on the floor of the conference only by members of the local unions of the United Mine Workers of America. Other mine workers opposed the resolution which was also opposed by the resolutions committee. It finally was tabled.
Tanner Plays Authorities.
The mine owners of the Calumet region, the Citizens alliance, the Houghton grand jury, the Michigan militia and Governor Ferris were assailed today by Charles H. Tanner, auditor of the Western Federation of Miners, in an address.
Tanner said there were from 2,000 to 3,000 union men still dependent on the "sterling" system of miners for food and clothing. He declared many of these men were men of large families, some comprising as many as 14 children and he urged the Michigan labor unions to send throughout the state men soliciting funds from union men or men friendly to unions, to be spent in caring for men out of employment.
Tanner made the principal address. The keynote of his remarks was a plea to provide sinews of war, to continue the industrial fight. The principal business of the conference was to decide on the best method of obtaining the money.
Responsible for Disaster.
Tanner charged the Citizens alliance with responsibility for the disaster at Calumet on Christmas eve and said evidence to that effect would be produced before the congressional investigation.
"Nobody believes the persons responsible for the tragedy intended to kill any one," he said. "They did, however, want to break up that celebration. More than one union man had been told that the union men 'would have a black Christmas.'"
"But the Christmas eve tragedy is only one of a series of tragedies. Union men have been shot. Millmen, gunmen and deputies have driven women and children off the streets. When our members paraded they were cut from their staffs and trampled in the dust. Deputies at the direction of the mine operators have entered the homes of union men, turned the occupants out, smashed furniture and shattered windows."
"The Houghton copper grand jury is a farce. Composed of mining superintendents, members of the Citizens alliance and Jim McNaughton's chauffeur. It acted as the unions expected it would act."

Grand Jury Finishes Probe.
HOUGHTON, Mich., Jan. 29.—After devoting two days to an investigation of the Palmersdale murders in which three nonunion men were killed, the special grand jury which has been inquiring into disorders growing out of the copper mine strike was discharged today from further service. A F. Heidkamp, the foreman, announced to the court that the body had no further report to make.
The grand jury began its deliberations on December 15. Seven indictments and seven "no true bills" were reported, among the former being the true bill against Charles H. Moyer, president, and 27 members of the Western Federation of Miners, on the charge of conspiracy to interfere with nonunion miners.
Although no indictments were found in the Palmersdale case, the jury recommended that a further investigation should be made by the sheriff's office.

NEVADA DIVORCE LAW ATTACKED

RENO, Nev., Jan. 29.—Steps to test the constitutionality of the new Nevada divorce law requiring a year's residence to confer jurisdiction, were taken today in the filing in the district court the complaint of Pearl E. Cullen, against Lee F. Cullen. The parties were married in Lassen county, California, three years ago and Mrs. Cullen sets forth a residence of six months. Cullen is not a resident of the state.
The new law became effective January 1 and provides that when both parties live in the state a residence of six months is sufficient, but when only one lives here he must have been a bona fide resident for 12 months.
It is contended by those opposing the law that citizenship in Nevada is acquired by a six months' residence, conferring power to sue in all courts and that the requirement of 12 months residence as a prerequisite to suing for divorce is an unconstitutional discrimination.

GOETHALS ACCEPTS GOVERNORSHIP OF THE CANAL ZONE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—President Wilson sent the nomination of Col. George W. Goethals to be governor of the canal zone after April 1, to the senate today.
As chairman of the Isthmian canal commission, Colonel Goethals is now paid $15,000 a year. The Panama canal zone fixes the salary of the governor at $10,000.
Representative Britten of Illinois today introduced a bill to amend the law to make the salary of the governor $15,000, so long as Colonel Goethals holds the office.
Secretary Garrison announced later that Colonel Goethals had signified his intention of accepting the governorship of the Panama canal zone proffered him by President Wilson. Mr. Garrison intimated that Colonel Goethals' acceptance was unqualified.
"I am not able to give out the terms of Colonel Goethals' acceptance at the present time," said Secretary Garrison, "but it was whole and complete."

NEVADA DIVORCE LAW ATTACKED

BALTIMORE, Jan. 29.—"I have never been sufficiently hypocritical to pretend that I don't like praise—praise for deeds well done. If what the toastmaster said about me is true, I ought to be in the White House tonight." Speaker Clark asserted at the annual dinner tonight of the Merchants and Manufacturers association.
"If we had had that primary election law in 1912 I would be there," he added.
In referring to the vitality of the Monroe doctrine, the speaker said it was a warning to the nations of Europe to keep hands off the republics south of us lest they die.
He predicted that Mexico would come out of its present troubles a stronger nation.
"It is a first-rate time for all of us to keep our mouths shut," the speaker informed them we are, and I am willing to abide by his decision."
Others who spoke were Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Senator Borah of Idaho and Congressman Fordney of Michigan.
Secretary Daniels made a plea to the business men to take more interest in politics.

MEXICANS RETALIATE AT DOUGLAS FOR QUARANTINE ORDER

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Jan. 29.—Following the quarantine ordered by Douglas health authorities Monday against the town of Agua Prieta, just across the border, Mexican officials today stopped a train for a passenger to Douglas in Agua Prieta. Then they compelled all passengers, Americans and Mexicans, to alight and mingle with the crowd, which prohibited them from crossing the international boundary. Ordinarily the train is barely halted in Agua Prieta only a few minutes while baggage is inspected and then allowed to proceed across the line.
Mexicans declare that the one case of emphysema discovered did not warrant the quarantine.
American passengers who came north on the passenger train could be seen from here today moving about the streets of the Mexican town, evidently trying in every possible manner to get on this side of the line.
Mexican Refuses Orders.
When the railroad men learned what the Mexican officials intended to do, it is said they sent word to all passengers to remain in the coaches at all hazards, as the only chance of getting over the border. Shortly after 10 A.M. it is believed, soldiers acting under the orders of Colonel P. E. Calles, commander of the garrison, compelled them to alight by telegraph to come to the side of his dying child, put his suitcase on his shoulder. It is said, and started to walk west, with the announced intention of going to Naco, 25 miles away, and crossing into the United States there. Three Mexican cavalrymen were sent after him and brought him back to town, according to reports here.
It is stated that the Mexicans declare they can raise the quarantine by holding back Americans who try to cross the border.

REFUGES MARCH ON HAITIAN CAPITAL; LEGISLATORS FLEE

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Jan. 29.—The forces of the revolution have begun their march on the capital. Senator Daylinar Theodore, in command of the rebels, is proceeding from Cape Haitien to Port au Prince by way of Gonaives. General Zamor is moving by way of Hinche, which lies 45 miles to the southwest of Cape Haitien.
Members of the cabinet have followed the example of Y. St. Denis, and have fled from the capital, several of them taking refuge aboard ship. Patrols from the United States armored cruiser Montana and the German cruiser Vineta will guard the legislators and keep order in the streets. It has not been necessary to land any men from the battleship South Carolina.

"MARRYING SQUIRE" ARRESTED; VALIDITY CEREMONY ATTACKED

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—A supreme court ruling that will determine whether the thousands of marriages that have been performed in Chicago by justices of the peace are legal is expected to result from the arrest today of Edmund B. Polk, justice of the peace of Oak Park. Polk is charged with having illegally performed the marriage ceremony for Julius Gillison, aged 14, and Fred Drew. He obtained his release on bond after a writ of habeas corpus had been refused.
Polk maintained offices in a building opposite the city hall, where licenses to wed were issued. When Drew was arrested, he charged that attaches of the license office directed him to Polk's office.
The contention of the Chicago authorities is that the municipal code act several years ago specifically deprived justices of the peace of any legal authority in the city of Chicago. The justice contends that, being a state officer, his rights include Cook county. There have been more than 50,000 marriages licensed issued each year since the passage of the municipal court act, and city hall attaches estimated today that more than 90 per cent of these marriages had been performed by justices of the peace.

VANDERBILT PARTY ARRIVES AT COLON; YACHT IN DISTRESS

COLON, Jan. 29.—The steamer Almirante arrived here this afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt, the Duke and Duchess of Manchester and Lord Falconer, who were rescued from Mr. Vanderbilt's yacht Monday off the coast of Colombia.
Apparently Mr. Vanderbilt and his guests suffered no ill effects from their bruising experiences, which included a day and a night of uncertainty while the yacht was being pounded by high seas, and a trip through the breakers from the stranded vessel to the Almirante.
During the trip to Colon, Mr. Vanderbilt received reports by wireless from the stranded yacht. Referring to those, he said:
"A report from the captain of the yacht this morning indicated a gloomy outlook, conditions being serious owing to the high seas. I am glad to say, however, that a wireless message which reached me at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon was much more favorable. It said that a working tug, the Kingston, was due at the scene at 5 o'clock this evening, and that less anxiety was felt by those on board the yacht."
Almirante to Return.
"In view of the uncertainty of the situation, the Almirante will go out of her regular route, returning immediately to the Warrenton to aid in the rescue of the officers and crew, if necessary. She will then proceed to Kingston."
It was a very different matter to leave the yacht, owing to the high seas, especially for the ladies in the party. A small boat from the steamer Frutera equipped, but the crew clinging to it until they were taken off. Other volunteers on both the Frutera and Almirante were more than willing to make another attempt to rescue the yacht, but at its request until the sea was smoother.

AMERICANS TO STUDY IN MUNICH SCHOOLS

By special arrangement between the city authorities of Munich, Germany, and the United States bureau of education, a party of American teachers, not to exceed 25, will go to Germany in April to serve as student-teachers—students preparing to teach in the trade continuation schools of Munich. They will remain in Munich from April to July, and will have unusual opportunities for studying the methods by which one of the foremost cities of Europe educates its citizens, particularly in the field of industrial training, in which the work of Munich under Dr. Kerschensteiner is conspicuous.
It is to be hoped that American teachers of manual training and industrial subjects will take advantage of this opportunity," said Dr. Clayton, commissioner of education, in announcing the plan. "It means setting at first hand the experience of one of the most notable industrial education systems of Europe. Mr. L. L. Summers, a special collaborator of this bureau, who has recently returned from a study of German conditions and is now lecturing in this country, reports that Dr. Kerschensteiner, Inspector Schmidt, and the city authorities are particularly anxious to welcome a party of representative teachers from the United States. TRUSTS NOT ALARMED BY DEMOCRATS with trusts is being inaugurated," remarked Senator Bristow of Kansas. "The stock of these corporations is continually rising under this beneficent sunshine of the present trust policy."

Take Up Bills.
Members of the senate interstate commerce committee took up informally today the pending interstate trade commission bill and completed several amendments, the chief of which would guard from publicity the information required from corporations relating to trade secrets, lists of customers and such data. Other amendments enlarging the scope of the commission are to be proposed later.

Representative Adamson, chairman of the house interstate commerce committee, talked with President Wilson regarding the capitalization and trade commission bills. Mr. Adamson told the president of the committee's plans for hearings which are in accord with the president's views that all the light possible should be gained by the congressional committees in the formulation of the antitrust program. The committee will inaugurate its hearings tomorrow.

Will Explain Measures.
The judiciary committee's hearings will be resumed with Representative Stanley of Kentucky continuing his explanation of his antitrust bills. Representative Henry of Texas presented his views today in the form of a letter embodying a speech he made in North Carolina recently.

Representative Sims of Tennessee, who will be active in the work of framing the proposed capitalization bill, does a measure now on the committee's docket which will figure materially in the discussions. It would make it unlawful for a railroad to issue capital stock, stock certificates, bonds or any other evidence of indebtedness except with the approval of the interstate commerce commission for extension and improvement of its lines and terminals and equipment and other "necessary purposes."

WINTER DESCENDS ON THE EASTERN AND CENTRAL STATES

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Fog even heavier than the blanket of almost record density that hung over the city and harbor early this week almost completely tied up water traffic tonight. At Sandy Hook observers could see less than 50 feet from the shore and the movement of big liners was out of the question.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 23.—Rain, sleet and snow, accompanied by a severe cold wave, descended on eastern Missouri and western Illinois tonight. The temperature dropped 45 degrees in 12 hours.

At Springfield, Mo., the snow was six inches deep early in the evening, and was still falling. Telephone, telegraph and street car service was demoralized.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 23.—One man is dead and three others are in Minneapolis hospitals today from runs on the icy streets, resulting from the sudden change from thawing to zero weather.

The thermometer at the government weather bureau here registered 49 degrees above zero yesterday and zero today.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Jan. 23.—Stalled 21 hours by a flood, a passenger train on the Reno branch of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road arrived today with 160 half-furnished passengers aboard.

The thermometer fell from 49 to 17 degrees above zero and the train was frozen in the ice. It was held there a day until the water receded, leaving a crust of ice which was broken by a section crew.

The train carried neither a diner nor a sleeper and the delay caused considerable suffering among women and children.

BLACKMAILERS DEMAND $75,000 CLARK RANSOM

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—An all-day search by the police failed today to give any clue to the authorship of the letter received late last night demanding a $75,000 ransom for Francis Lewis Clark, the Spokane Wash. mailman, who has been missing from Santa Barbara, Cal. since January 17.

While friends of Clark are inclined to believe that the letter is not a hoax and that Clark really is in custody of those who signed the blackmailers' letter received by Chief of Police Sebastian of this city, they express the belief that further developments must come from the writers of the letter.

SIR LIONEL GARDEN WILL GO TO LONDON

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 23.—Sir Lionel Garden, the British minister today confirmed the announcement that he had been ordered to London to report on the outlook in Mexico. He is awaiting the arrival here of T. R. Hohler, who is to take the post of charge d'affaires.

RING GROWS IN POTATO?

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 23.—Plunging a fork in a baked potato, Roderick Peel, a rancher near here, struck today in the middle of the vegetable a sapphire ring that his wife dropped in the field two years ago and searched for in vain. The potato has been in Peel's tin for several weeks.

ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY IS BESIEGED BY SUFFRAGETTE BARRAGETTES

LONDON, Jan. 23.—A band of militant suffragettes today besieged the Archbishop of Canterbury, the English primate, in Lambeth palace, and eventually forced him to capitulate and receive one of their number in order to discuss the question of forcible feeding.

The women were headed by Mrs. Dacre-Fox. It took them upwards of an hour to obtain admission to the old palace on the banks of the Thames, a little above Westminster.

They declined to listen to any attempt on the part of those within to temporize. Finally the archbishop, seeing the futility of trying to escape from his obstinate blockaders, allowed Mrs. Dacre-Fox to enter.

The head of the church of England listened sympathetically to the "baragettes' appeal" but he refused utterly to commit himself.

Mrs. Dacre-Fox told the prelate her belief that the women were not to be treated as a real Christian church should be to use only the moral influence to put an end to the system of forcible feeding. The bishop said that he received letters from all sections of the church against forcible feeding, but that he could not give an answer to the suffragettes' appeal. He had heard the other side but continued.

All I can promise is a careful consideration of the matter. Mrs. Dacre-Fox then turned to Archbishop Davidson that was so kindly disinterested with her. She presented him with a copy of the suffragette newspaper and also Miss Christobel Pankhurst's book and she hoped his personal view would open his eyes to the situation.

DISCOUNT COMPANY FOR NEW YORK IS PROPOSED

New Concern Planned When Currency System Goes Into Effect Through-out Country

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Establishment of a "discount company" is under discussion by some of the leading financial interests of this city. It was learned today. The chief function of such an institution would be the purchase and sale of commercial paper and bills.

The proposed organization has not assumed definite shape, but it is understood that the scheme will be perfected soon after the new currency laws become operative. Under the new banking system commercial paper and similar financial instruments will have a place in the general scheme of finance hitherto unknown to this country, and their possibilities have frequently been pointed out as a source of added profit. It is the purpose of the projectors of the discount company to establish branches abroad.

100 FEDERALIS ARE KILLED IN BATTLE, SAY REPORT TO CONSTITUTIONAL

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Jan. 23.—Four hundred federalists were killed in the battle of Concepcion during the capture of the city, according to a report to Constitutionalists here.

The battle took place early this week at Saltillo. The rebels lost seven and 70 wounded.

Dynamite bombs made from iron pipe were used with effect by the Constitutionalists. The battle lasted 24 hours the rebels gradually giving up the city behind barricade entrenchments. The greatest loss occurred when an overabundance of rebels ambushed federal reinforcements from Saltillo. There was no destruction of property.

OLDEST FIREMAN ON SPRINGS DEPARTMENT IS RETIRED UNDER CITY'S PENSION LAW

receive the benefit of the pension or discharge meets with the approval of every member of the fire department.

Many people think the life of a fireman is one of ease. It isn't. The fireman's life is one of constant duty. His hours are from daylight to dark and from dark to daylight. His leisure time includes eight hours for sleep, three hours each day for meals and a day off in every seven. After one year of service he is entitled to a vacation of 10 days each year. His time is spent in waiting for the sound of the bell which sends him speeding away to fight fire at somebody's home or place of business. When the blaze has been extinguished and he has heard the notes of the house complain because the department didn't get there sooner, he returns to the fire station with blistered hands and face wet clothing—perhaps frozen stiff—and plenty of work to be done in putting used apparatus back into place.

Work Appeals to Many
The burning to love the life. The sound of the fire alarm brings a thrill of joy and he begins to hope that it is a good one. The hotter the fire, the higher the flames leap the better the old fire-fighter is suited. When a fire is in the heavens is seen the fireman's courage and the motor are pushed to the best degree of speed. Cook will leave all this. With his family he will go to California to spend the remainder of the winter. The firemen of the city last night presented the veteran with a handsomely engraved gold watch as a token of their regard. The presentation scene was a touching one the saddest person being Cook himself.

"He's a mighty fine old man, and one of the best firemen I have ever known," declared Chief McCarthy of his oldest fighter.

The next man to receive a pension will be Assistant Chief

MAN IS JUDGED BY HIS ACTIONS IN PLAY, NOT WHEN HE WORKS, SAYS PROF. CLARK

by what he does when he plays. When one works he cannot be judged by his actions. One is compelled to work. But when play time comes all that is the trifling period of a man's character. It is the task of the parent to teach the boy such manners that when his playtime comes he will want to do those things that are high and noble.

In this day of the world parents seem to have the idea that the girl must have culture. That culture is all that she should stand. When it comes to the girl she must have nothing but hard study and preparation for the hard work of the business world.

But I say that the lad has a right to culture. The parent must give him culture. If he is to be a man in the full measure of the world. First I would let the lad travel. Send him to the old nations of the earth, where he can walk the ground and breathe the atmosphere where the world's history was made. It is inspiration gained from spots where big things occurred that will give the lad a purpose in life.

Then I would see that he knows how to interpret music, and let him read literature. A boy who has felt his soul stir over the big incidents in literature will not go far wrong in the big issues of life. Literature can teach a lad life. And the supreme value of literature comes when the boy so loves it that he can go to it with pleasure when busy time comes. He who loves books as a friend to turn to in dull or lull periods of a friend that will help him to develop into a broad-minded citizen with vision.

Colorado Springs has received an im-

the last few weeks through the efforts of Dr. J. A. Rutledge, superintendent of the Modern Woodmen sanatorium, thrust of this city. Dr Rutledge arrived yesterday from an extended trip in the east.
While in Illinois and surrounding states, Dr. Rutledge lectured on Colorado Springs and the Woodmen san-clubs. Everywhere he said, the members were enthusiastic boosters of the institution and since they have been acquainted with the climate of Colorado Springs, are boosting the city.

Modern Woodmen, spent yesterday in

SPRINGS NEEDS GREATER PUBLICITY, SAYS VISITOR

Entire Pike Peak Region Wonderful, Declares Philadelphian, but Easterners Are Not Aware of It

Colorado Springs would be visited by many more thousands of people annually if it would make known its attractions throughout the east in the opinion of Frank J. Scoville, a manufacturer of Philadelphia. Mr. Scoville, with his wife and two daughters, has been spending several days in the Pike Peak region on a tour of the west.

"This is my first visit to Colorado Springs," said Mr. Scoville, "but I would have been here years ago had I known what attractions this country holds for the traveler. Heretofore I have gone to Europe or one of the eastern resorts for my vacations. How I happened to come west this time I don't know. But now I intend coming as often as possible."

"Colorado Springs should advertise its resources in the east. I believe there are thousands of people there who know no more of this country than I did before coming here. Let them know what you have and you can't keep them away. They are tired of going to Europe, and all the resorts in this country are becoming old. They want something new and different—and Colorado Springs certainly can offer it."

LOWELL EXHIBIT CLOSES;

Drawings by Celebrated Cartoonist Proved Popular Opening of Art Society: Water Color Exhibit Next

Last night marked the close of the exhibit of Orson Lowell drawings which were brought to this city by the Colorado Springs Art society. More than 8,000 people visited the exhibit during the 14 days it was on view in the Federal building. The drawings proved the most popular of any ever shown in this city, and the exhibit as a whole was fully up to the standard of any previously brought here by the society. The plan of opening the rooms to the public at night during the last four days of the exhibit proved working with a large number of working people, and many inspected the drawings at that time. Two of the drawings were sold to residents of Colorado Springs.

An exhibit of water colors will be opened to the public soon, under the auspices of the society. The pictures are already here, and will be hung within the next week. The exhibit will probably be opened the second week in February.

Check the Symptoms of Lung Trouble

One of the many reasons why Lung Trouble is so difficult to fight is because the disease is often of a very insidious nature. The patient may look well but in reality is fast losing strength in continued night sweats, fever and cough. These symptoms should be checked as quickly as possible. Eckman's Alternative is beneficial in checking fever and night sweats and it has brought about many complete recoveries. Read this case.

Gentlemen—I am writing you this testimonial that others may know what your Alternative has done for me. Since I was a very young woman I was suffering from Bronchitis. I tried doctor after doctor, getting little or no benefit. Finally I had night sweats, weak spells and lost rapidly in weight and my doctor told me if they were not checked I would have Lung Trouble.

Miss Mary Korbamer, who is a friend of mine, recovered after taking your Alternative and insisted that I try it.
I am now, after two years, perfectly well, strong and healthy.

MODERN LANGUAGE CLUBS WILL STAGE TWO PLAYS

Annual Presentation by Classes at Colorado College Scheduled for February 21 and 28

The two modern language clubs at Colorado college will present their annual foreign language plays during the month of February. The French club on February 21 and the German club February 28.

The French club will present "La Bataille des Dames" by Eugene Ibsen.
The play is entitled in English under the title of "A Doll's House." It deals with the life of a woman in a countess and her daughter, both of whom are in love with a count, who is in hiding at the country house with a price on his head.

The German play is a strictly modern play, entitled "Die Bernhilde Frau" (The Famous Wife). It deals with the problem whether a woman can find her greatest happiness in a public career or in the home and settles it in a truly German fashion.

SULLIVAN CASE WILL GO TO JURY THIS MORNING

The taking of evidence in the case of Dan Sullivan, or that in the district court on a charge of murdering Henry L. Thornburg, was concluded yesterday afternoon, and the instructions of Judge W. B. Morris before whom the case is being heard will be given the jury this morning. The jurors were taken to the scene of the murder—a Huerfano street lodging house—last evening, in order that they might better understand the location of the rooms.

At the afternoon session yesterday the prosecution took the testimony of several police officers on redirect examination, attempting to show that Sullivan was not under the influence of liquor or drugs at the time of the flight in which Thornburg received fatal wounds.

The state concluded its direct examination of witnesses by introducing as exhibits the clothing worn by Thornburg the night of December 2, when he was fatally stabbed in the fight with Sullivan.

Charles B. Johnson, principal witness for the state, was recalled by the defense for further cross-examination.
When questioned, he admitted having served a sentence in the Rhode Island penitentiary for assaulting a Chinaman with the intention of robbing him.
He also admitted that he escaped from a street gang at Pueblo, where he was working out a $50 fine imposed for vagrandy.

The defense scored a point yesterday morning when Judge Morris ruled that it would not have to make a statement of the course it would pursue in the trial. Under this ruling the prosecution was compelled to wait for the testimony of the defendant's witnesses instead of having time to prepare its rebuttal in advance. Judge Morris ruled that the practice of the defense making a statement of its case was not compulsory under the statutes.

Much interest has been shown in the trial and the court room was packed all day yesterday. At the afternoon session many spectators were unable to find seats and stood in the rear of the room during the trial.

RIGGEST TRAIN OF AUTOS
PASSES THROUGH SPRINGS

A special train carrying the biggest single shipment of automobiles ever sent to Colorado arrived in Colorado Springs over the Santa Fe yesterday afternoon. The train left the Buick automobile factory at Flint, Mich., January 20, with 21 cars, carrying a total of 122 autos with a retail value of $162,350. The cars were all consigned to Colorado dealers four carloads coming to Colorado Springs.

Man Drowns in Four Feet of Water in Well

ELLIS Kan. Jan. 29—After struggling for hours to rescue her husband, who had fallen into a well on his farm near here today, Mrs. Dinkel gave up, exhausted, and Mr. Dinkel drowned in four feet of water.

Dinkel was completing the wall of a new well. He slipped and fell to the bottom. His wife obtained a rope and lowered herself into the well, but Dinkel was so crippled he could not assist himself. For a time the woman held her husband's head above water and tried to climb up with him.
Mrs. Dinkel collapsed and is in a dangerous condition.

Easter Island Women Ugly and Dirty; Are Not to Be Desired for Wives

SAN FRANCISCO Jan. 29—Let nobody looking for a native wife and an easy life in the south seas go to Easter Island. This is the advice of seven prominent seafarers, the last of the east-away crew of the abandoned schooner Eldorado, who arrived here today with a plain tale that puts to blush all the adornments of fancy printed single Captain Benson master of the Eldorado, first brought word that he had left the better part of his crew on the island, because of the delights of life there had weaned them from all desire for civilization.

With one voice, the seven proclaim that they were not married either by native or any other rites, that nothing could have induced them to marry any Easter Islander they ever set eyes on and that the only reason they did not leave sooner was that they had a prident regard for their lives and believed they were sure to be picked up by a passing vessel if they stayed, whereas they ran a good chance to be drowned in a long wave in an open boat. The women of Easter Island they said are ugly and dirty.

The seven castaways were picked up by the British gunboat Knight of the Garter after spending five and a half months on the island and taken to Australia where an eighth shipmate left them. There is now they said but one white man on the island, the British governor, who treated them with great consideration.

He laughed again.

MORE LANDS OFFERED THAN GOVERNMENT CAN PURCHASE

That the people of the east are awake to the needs and advantages of federal administration of their mountain watersheds is evidenced by the fact that more lands are being offered for sale to the government than the funds made available for purchase under the Weeks law will buy. During the past fiscal year approximately 3,100,000 acres of land in the southern Appalachian and White mountain regions were offered for sale of which nearly 426,000 acres were approved for purchase by the national forest reservation commission, making a total of 718,415 acres since the law went into effect about three years ago. These lands are located in 14 of the 20 designated purchase areas having a total area of 6,600,000 acres in the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia.

JEROME D. TRAVERS

NEW YORK Jan. 29.—Jerome D. Travers, the national amateur golf champion, is going abroad to compete in the British championships which will begin at Sandwich, May 18. He plans to leave New York about May 10. Travers also has sent in his entry to the French national tournament, which will be held at La Boute beginning May 25. He will then go back to England for the open tournament at Prestwick, June 18.

Feds' Assert They Will Be as Good as Others in '15
CHICAGO Jan. 29.—War between the Federal league and organized baseball will continue until the latter receives the circuit into its fold, according to Secretary Lloyd Rickart of the Federal league. Rickart asserts that the Federal league will continue next year their rides on the players now with organized baseball whose contracts expire at the end of the season.

There are enough of these to cripple the big leagues more seriously than the present raid, if they jump the secretary said.

The situation at this end of the season will be such as to force recognition from the American and National leagues and as a third big league, the Federal will operate on equal terms with the others in 1915, its promoters believe.

Manager Evers of the Chicago National league, who reported at headquarters today after a tour of the south, announced that three games between the Cubs and the St. Louis Americans would take place at Tampa, March 4 and 5 and a return engagement at St. Petersburg, Fla., later.

BOSTON Jan. 29.—Hugh Bedient, a Red Sox pitcher of the last two seasons, who was said to have been approached by Federal league agents, signed with the Boston American club today. Bedient expressed himself as highly satisfied with the terms.

CHATTANOOGA Tenn. Jan. 29.—Howard Doyle, captain of the Chattanooga Americans, arrived today to confer with First Baseman Doc Johnston in an effort to obtain his signature to a Cleveland contract and prevent his acceptance of an offer from the Federal league.

OMAHA Jan. 29.—Arthur Thomason, star outfielder and batt of the Omaha Western league club today returned his signed contract. Thomason had received a flattering offer, it was said from the Federal league.

KANSAS CITY Jan. 29.—Benjamin Harris, a pitcher who played last year with the Denver team of the Western league, tonight signed a three-year contract with the Kansas City Federal league club.

TACOMA Wash. Jan. 29.—Jack Fournier, the star of the Tacoma White Sox, today received a telegram from Joe Tinker offering a three-year contract in the Federal league. Fournier said the salary offered was such that he probably would accept.

CLEVELAND O. Jan. 29.—Catcher Carls signed today to play with the Cleveland American league club next season.

IN AND OUT OF DAMASCUS BUILDINGS
From the Christian Herald.
The hotel is called the Grand Yucca, but it is a blacksmith shop and a saddle shop. The lower stories are mostly blank bare walls. From the upper stories there are balconies of painted iron, some of which extend so far over the street as to make it easy for the valued damsel of the harem to leap across.

In contrast with these plain exteriors the interiors are often extremely beautiful, having an open court paved with marble and a fountain fed by the waters of the Abana, tinkling and splashing through the hot hours of the day and wooing one to rest during the cool of the evening. Palms, oranges, trees and oleanders stand here and there. Within the house you discover rooms cold and formal, an American but brilliant with Oriental hangings, brasses and inlaid mother-of-pearl.

Ad Wolgast Knocks Out Boer Scrapper in Second Stanza

POND DU LAC, W. V. Ad Wolgast, formerly of the United States Army, tonight knocked out a Boer fighter in the second stanza of a scheduled fight. Wolgast appeared on the scene at his own request, at the request of the second stanza. In a desperate effort to strike a punch, he forced the fighter to retreat, which Wolgast did. Wolgast drove a blow to the fighter's head, which he drove to the ground. After a count to ten, the fighter was unable to get up. Wolgast won the fight by a knockout in the second stanza. The weight had been specified at 145 pounds, but Wolgast weighed in at 127. Wolgast refused a strip, but got on the scale in his street clothes, tipping the beam at 142.

Fitzsimmons Proves He Can Do 'Come Back'

WILLIAMSPORT Pa. Jan. 29.—Robert Fitzsimmons, former heavyweight champion of the world, displayed much of his old-time speed and fighting generalship here tonight in a six-round bout with 'Knockout' Sweeney of Cleveland. It was his first contest since he retired from the ring several years ago, and pugilist experts asserted he had 'come back.' Fitzsimmons' blows were powerful and Sweeney was knocked down and took the count of nine repeatedly.

Players Under Contract Won't Be Approached by Federal League Scouts

TORONTO, Jan. 29.—President Gilmore of the Federal league in a statement today described as untrue reports that because of the Killian matter there would be reprisals by the Federal league and that players under contract to the major leagues would be taken by the new organization.

"We announced as our policy that no player under contract would be approached by the Federal league and we do not intend to change that policy," he said. "We want fair play with everybody and we will adhere strictly to our announced policy."

WELSH EASILY DEFEATS KELLY IN EIGHT ROUNDS

ST. LOUIS Jan. 29.—Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion of England, defeated Leo Kelly of St. Louis in an eight-round contest tonight.

Welsh was the aggressor from the start and never was in danger of being knocked out. Kelly was a hard upper cut with a left hand. Welsh, it was announced, has been matched to box Young Shugrue in New York next week.

COLLEGE ATHLETICS

Coach Orton of the Penn track team is glooming his stars for several big indoor meets. Relay races have been arranged with Dartmouth and Cornell the latter to be held here February 11.

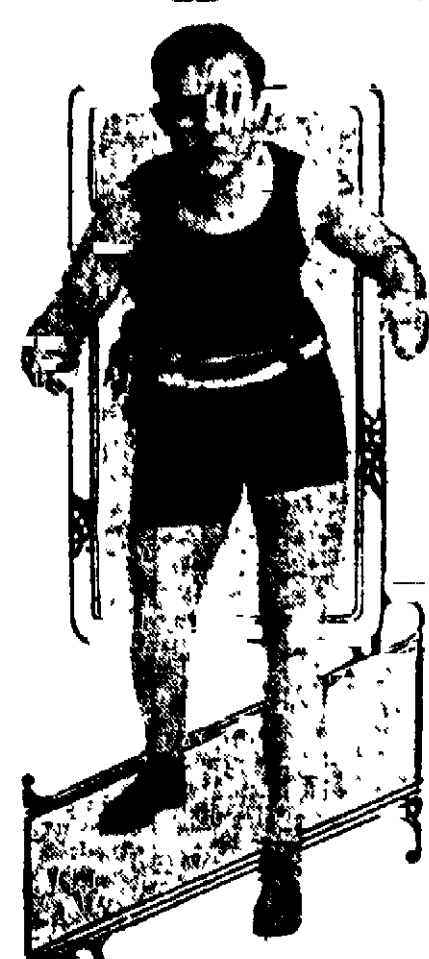

The University of Virginia and Georgetown two of the greatest colleges in the country have severed athletic relations. The break was announced from the Virginia headquarters. The annual football game between these two institutions has been one of Washington's biggest sporting events for years.

The eastern end of the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate basketball league promises to be a merry struggle between Swarthmore and Lehigh. The South Bethlehem collegians are beaten on the carpet floor last week but it required an extra period and then the Brown and White lost by one point.

Washington and Brown are trying to get Michigan Agnew to come to Washington, Pa. next Thanksgiving day for the big home football game of the season. The Aggies have already arranged a game at State College.

"Shorty" Sayre will probably be the star of the Penn football staff this spring. The Red and Blue has a tackle, Shultz or Harry Linley this year, so that means that Coach Lin Thomas will have to do his best to develop a line of his own. Sayre is a dependable flanker. Some experts consider him the best hitting outfielder to make good in the box.

Bill Rand, captain of the Harvard 1908 track team, has been named to coach the "Crusader" hurlers. Rand was a member of the American Olympic team which went to London in 1912. Alex Jackson is the star of the Harvard hurdling squad this year.

GEORGE CHIP

The Pittsburgh middleweight who has a strong claim on the middleweight title by virtue of his two knockout victories over Frank Klaus, Chip and Mike Gibbons, the 'Paul' phantom, are now looked upon as the only legitimate claimants to the throne of the middleweight, and when these two are brought together in the deciding bout the fight fans will be treated to one of the greatest fights that has been staged in years.

GOLF

After waiting for more than a year for the trustees of the Lesley cup to take some action in the matter, Leighton Calkins has made public the result of the unofficial investigation regarding the question of whether four-course or four-ball matches should be played in the annual Lesley cup matches. These are participated in by the golfers of the Metropolitan, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania Golf associations.

The replies Mr. Calkins received from golfers who have played on Lesley cup teams show an overwhelming numerical majority in favor of four-ball matches and of dropping the four-somes. Twenty-eight replies were received, and of these 24 expressed a preference for the four-ball match.

The list of those who voted against retaining four-somes follows: Robert Abbott, J. G. Hatterston, George T. Brooks, Clifford A. Dunning, Howard J. Gee, Arthur B. Graham, Samuel J. Graham, C. W. Insole, F. C. Jennings, Dwight Partridge, Ralph Peters, Jr., Percy R. Pyne, 2d John Reid, Jr., J. F. Stanley, Jr., W. R. Thurston, C. E. Van Allen, Jr., G. H. Waldo, Jr., Gardner W. White, Marshall Whitely, Harold H. Wilcox, E. M. Wild and Charles H. Selby.

Against this imposing array in point of numbers are the opinions of four golfers who maintain that the foursome is the better test of golf and should be retained in the Lesley cup matches. They are Jerome D. Travers, Max H. Lehr, Archie M. Reid and Charles E. McDonnell.

No opinions on the subject were obtained from Fred Hercliff, John M. Ward, Arden M. Rollins, Fredrick S. Douglas, C. L. Sullivan and W. L. Hicks.

The feat of holing out in one has become so common that a golfer to really distinguish himself must get a such holes in one round, which has been accomplished at least half a dozen times during the last year. The record holder remains with Alex. Smith who got a such hole in one on the third and fourth of August.

Previously the most remarkable single hole was a hole in one for the first time by a golfer in the city of New York. Miss F. MacAndrew and Miss M. Neeson, who every one of the 10 holes were halved in that being tied on the nineteenth green.

One of the record shots of the year was a South African. The player whiffed the back of his addie's head and rebounded 73 yards, the distance being officially measured.

McDermott had a strange experience at Brookline. His drive on fourteenth was into the rough and he had his ball lying on top of another ball. He had been told that he had to get his own ball.

Graduate golfers are looking forward with interest to an unusual match to be staged at the time of the final championship of the Royal Canadian Golf association at Miramichi, N. B.

Ben Cline, the new amateur champion, is starring in the swimming pool in the close of the tooth. Learning the Philadelphia box is a never-ending story.

GOLF GAME TOO EASY, SAYS FOWLER; NEED MORE HAZARDS

With New Ball Poorest Golfer of Today Can Drive Much Farther Than Most Expert Players of 20 Years Ago

By FRANK G. MENKE

NEW YORK Jan. 29.—If D. D. Fowler, the poorest golfer of today, could drive a ball as far as the expert players of 20 years ago, he would become a champion.

Fowler, who is a golf enthusiast and who has been playing golf for many years, says that the game of golf is too easy today. He says that the expert players of 20 years ago had to make a great deal of effort to drive a ball as far as he can today.

Association of golf clubs and the substitution of steel and iron balls for the old-fashioned gutta-percha balls have made the golf game too easy, Fowler would have cross-hazards and other obstacles placed in the course to make the golfer's game more difficult.

Fowler declares that even the poorest golfer of the present day can get a great distance in his drives when using the new steel ball than could the most expert golfers of the old days who had nothing but a gutta-percha ball to swing.

"To make the game as difficult as it was 20 years ago," declares Fowler, "the courses ought to be lengthened about 1000 yards. But this is impractical. Golfers even now complain about the length of the course many of them declaring that it is too long for them to get in two rounds in the afternoon of the short days of spring and fall."

Add Hazards to Courses.
Mr. Fowler is to add hazards to the course. He would have installed a number of cross-hazards of a difficult nature. This would increase the difficulties of the player to the extent of taking away the advantages he has with the new steel ball, new clubs and course improvements and, he believes, greatly add to the interest of golf.

Harry Vardon, the great English golfer, agrees with Fowler that the game today is a "bit too easy" but he does not feel that hazards would make the game much more difficult. Vardon, however, does not offer any suggestion for bettering conditions.

J. H. Taylor, the British champion while agreeing with Fowler that cross-hazards ought to be installed in courses, does not think the game has become too easy.

"Golf as it is played today is a pretty hard game," said Taylor. "I disagree with anyone who says it is easy. I believe that cross-hazards ought to be placed on the courses because it would add a little excitement to it but I'm afraid that with the ordinary hazards and cross-hazards the game would be so difficult for beginners."

Yale Eleven Will Play Nine Games Next Season
NEW HAVEN Jan. 29.—Yale's football schedule for next fall, announced today, contains nine games, one less than last year. Holy Cross and Lafayette have been dropped and in their places will be the University of Virginia and Notre Dame. Yale has never met the two latter colleges in football before.

With the exception of the game with Princeton at Princeton all the games will be played in New Haven. The schedule:

September 26, University of Maine; October 3, University of Virginia; October 10, Lehigh; October 17, Notre Dame; October 24, Washington; November 7, Brown; November 14, Princeton; November 21, Harvard.

Capital's First Girl Motorcyclist
I think motorcycling one of the healthiest and most thrilling sports that can be adopted by the girl who likes outdoor exercise, says Miss Minnie Schuerger of Washington, D. C.

Miss Schuerger, who is just 17 years old, was the first girl in Washington to receive a permit to operate a motorcycle and also the first woman member of the Washington Motorcyclist club.

Since she was 16 years of age, Miss Schuerger has been familiar with the motorcycle, having spent a long time riding tandem with her brother. But her motor girls who first interested her, so she began to want to try her own and a few weeks ago, her wish was gratified. During a talk with her brother she had learned something about the operation of the machine, that she did not distrust it. So she began to study it and she started on the first long ride on which she rode her own motor. The length of this run was 64 miles.

The next riding lesson was a 100-mile run. She was very happy and made herself a outfit, consisting of a gray suit with Norfolk cap, a sitting cap of gray, a walking stick and puttees. She also wore a safety harness.

NEW YORK GOLF MAD

New York has gone wild over golf. It is no uncommon sight, these winter days to see at least 100 players waiting to make the round on the Van Cortlandt park links, regarded as one of the best public courses in the city.

The city officials have been petitioned to construct another course in the park and to construct courses in the several other parks on Manhattan Island and in Brooklyn, and it is quite possible that the plea will be granted and that the new courses will be opened to the public late in the spring.

At present in Greater New York, there are about 50,000 golf players not affiliated with any golf clubs, and the number will be almost doubled before the middle of next summer. In the past the golfers have had only two public links at their disposal, one in Van Cortlandt and the other in Forest park, Brooklyn. Many golfers in their endeavors to avoid waiting until others finished their games, have gone to the links in the summer soon after daylight. Many of the games last summer were finished almost in darkness.

Tommy Murphy
The veteran lightweight of New York, who is having such a hard time trying to get champion Willie Ritchie to step into the same ring with him. The last bout arranged between the pair has been postponed three times by Ritchie, but Murphy is not at all perturbed and has sent word to Ritchie warning the champion that the longer he puts off the fight the more pushy he will receive at the hands of Tommy when they do fight.

THE WHY OF THE D. C.
From Lippincott's.
Little Thastus came home from school one day and asked "Tav, Paw, why does dey allus put D. C. after Washington?"

"Why chile?" replied the old colored man. "Is s'pried at yer ignorance. Doan yer know dat D. C. means dat Washington wha de daddy of his country?"

THE COAL CONTROVERSY

COMMENTING on the local coal situation the Telegraph observes that "The Gazette has discovered that it has picked a lemon, and is now backing away from it." Disregarding the somewhat jumbled figure of speech, we rise to remark that the Telegraph has, as usual, made a bad guess. It is a case of the wish being father to the thought.

The Gazette believes that the Council acted wisely in adopting the first two recommendations of the majority report, because it opens the way for an early settlement of the problem through the reduction of the price of coal by the operators. We believe that a reasonable time should be allowed in which to conduct negotiations looking to this end, and that every support should be given them by the public.

But in the event of the failure of the negotiations, we favor the acceptance of the Thomas proposition, provided careful investigation shows it to be practicable. And if for any reason this should not work out, and the operators still maintain exorbitant prices, then the Council should appoint a competent engineer to present facts and figures in detail showing the probable cost of operating a municipal mine.

If the Council and the operators can get together it will be the most satisfactory solution of the problem. But if they cannot do this The Gazette favors carrying out the third, and if necessary, the fourth recommendation of the majority report.

The Telegraph need not give itself undue concern over the attitude of this paper. We have contended from the beginning for a reduction of the price of coal, and we expect to keep it up. Undoubtedly the best procedure, and the one favored by a majority of the people, is to attain this end through the voluntary action of the operators. But the people would rather have the City retail coal or even operate its own mine, than continue permanently to pay present prices.

THE NEW SPIRIT

WE HAVE fooled with the railroad problem for more than 50 years, we have floundered along in the trust problem for nearly as long. Who dares claim that we have even touched the hem of remedy in the railroad situation? Who will stand up today and seriously contend that after 25 years of litigation the solution of the Standard Oil company is today visible to the naked eye?

Thus speaks Victor Murdock, who has already begun his campaign for election as Progressive senator from Kansas. And in this speaking Victor Murdock has voiced the sentiments of an ever increasing number of Americans, regardless of party. Too long our political battles have been fought on non-essentials, there is an increasing demand that something big and really vital be accomplished.

Mr. Murdock speaks, too, as a real Progressive. So-called progressive Democrats have denounced Progressives for opposing progressive Democratic legislation. The Gazette has been reprimanded for failing to appreciate what President Wilson has accomplished.

But Mr. Murdock has voted for every Democratic measure sent to the House by President Wilson. Mr. Murdock, therefore, does not speak as one who condemns what Wilson has done—for he has helped to do it. He speaks, on the other hand, as one who would most gladly go so much farther than Mr. Wilson shows any signs of going. He speaks as one to whom tariff revision and currency reform and anti-trust laws are good—but not good enough.

Mr. Murdock speaks, indeed, for those who have seen tariff revision come, without any reduction in the cost of living, without any increase in wages, without any breaking up of selfish interests. He speaks for those who have seen currency reform come, and who now realize that the control of the new currency system will be almost as entirely in the hands of the bankers as it was before. He speaks for those who have wanted some real control, not over the size of corporations, but over their capitalization, over their wages, over their prices, and who see in the Wilson program only a continuation of dissolutions that don't dissolve, of prosecutions that pay the people nothing, of the restoration of a competition that is as dead as the economist who proclaimed it as the salvation of the people.

Those who believe as Mr. Murdock believes are not united on a policy. Some, perhaps, would go one way, some another. And yet they are constantly coming nearer together. Mr. Murdock himself is making his campaign on the Progressive trust control bills which offer control that really controls and on government ownership of railroads. Gifford Pinchot, it is said, will make his campaign for senator from Pennsylvania on a platform of popular ownership and operation of coal mines—and he, too, it is said, will be for government ownership of railroads.

Whether the Progressive party as a party will accept these principles remains to be seen. One thing is certain: when the Progressives throw off the shackles of the old parties they made certain the coming of a new day in politics, a day when men would refuse to be bound by old conventions and old prejudices, and would think boldly for themselves. They are now thinking. Mr. Murdock is thinking, Mr. Pinchot is thinking, Colonel Roosevelt is thinking. And millions of plain, everyday citizens are thinking. And their thinking is all along the line indicated in Mr. Murdock's remarks to his Kansas constituents.

What the outcome of this thinking will be no man can say. That it will lead the United States out of the old political paths, and into new highways, is as certain as that tomorrow's sun will rise. Only those who fear the new day to whom whatever is, is right and best; to whom change is wrong, just because it is change.

COSSITT HALL

THE new Cossitt Memorial hall is what Colorado College has long needed. It gives the men of the college a meeting place; it will tend to bring them together on a common ground. And that is what the college has needed. Fraternities have their uses, but it can hardly be claimed by their best friends that they are centripetal; from their very nature they are centrifugal.

But the new hall, if it fulfills its purpose, will be centripetal. It will draw men together into one meeting place; it will get them to working for a common end. And that's what they need. The Tigers would have won the championship last year if they had had back of them the united and enthusiastic support of the whole student body. So long as there was no way of getting the men together day by day in one place, where shoulder to shoulder they could work out their problems, they were perhaps not to blame for the fact that they were somewhat lacking in that intangible but nevertheless very real thing known as college spirit.

But with the new hall there will no longer be this same excuse. The men will have their common meeting place. They will have in addition the best gymnasium in the state. In future we will be able to forgive them when, having done their utmost, they fail. But we will never be able to forgive them if they lose because the men of the college have failed to get unitedly behind them.

PRESIDENT COTTEN

FRANK COTTEN, the new president of the Chamber of Commerce, can ask no more than that the membership stand by him as loyally as they stood by his predecessor, Frank A. Perkins. That much he does have a right to demand. But there is no question of his receiving such assistance. The Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce has, during the past year, found itself. It is more united than ever before, it is larger, it is more enthusiastic. It is planning bigger things even than have been accomplished in the past.

As for Mr. Cotten, he demonstrated, during the recent campaign for membership, his ability as a hustler. He will give largely and generously of his time to the work of the chamber, because he has done so in the past. That he will be successful in his work as president may surely be inferred by the fact that, with him as chairman of the membership committee, the membership of the Chamber of Commerce for the first time passed the 1,000 mark.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

To the Editor of The Gazette:
Over a year must pass before the single tax movement will be voted on, so why install campaign tactics into what should be a dispassionate investigation?

Any reform that promises industrial freedom must be worthy of respect, especially now that the rapid spread of the faith is forcing it upon our attention. Hundreds—aye, thousands—of our citizens would gladly consider a movement that was evidently for the public good if only they could appraise the way to free industry by abolishing taxation as an attractive idea, and one that imports into the question of taxes into insignificance, the size of corporations, but over their capitalization, over their wages, over their prices, and who see in the Wilson program only a continuation of dissolutions that don't dissolve, of prosecutions that pay the people nothing, of the restoration of a competition that is as dead as the economist who proclaimed it as the salvation of the people.

ODDS AND ENDS

We're all for that proposed Colorado automobile road. And, of course, the road must be through Colorado Springs. For we have the only really well-improved road across the Rockies.

The Wilson trust bills are ready for congress. Wall Street, however, seems to be facing the future with fortitude.

Operators in the Northern copper country oppose the federal strike investigation. Why? The government interferes in even the slightest degree with a gentleman's right to do whatever he pleases with his own property and with the men who work for him?

In Colorado, however, the Telegraph has consented to the coal investigation, so the government may proceed.

F. C. THORNTON, Colorado Springs, Jan. 28.

To the Editor of The Gazette:
May I again ask the question, "Is not the whole theory of a single tax to appropriate to the use of the community all ground values belonging to all citizens, either rich or poor?" As you are an honest man, Mr. Single Tax, is not the answer yes?

The brave and outspoken legislator believes that to be the true answer, and publicly says yes. If all personal wealth is exempt from taxes, will it not be necessary to increase the tax on every home in the city to help make good the loss? As you are an honest man, is not the true construction of your own answer yes?

Is it not literally true that the small improvements of the poor man, giving him but trivial exemptions, will make his relative share of the burden of taxation greater than that of his rich neighbor? Can there be but one answer to that question? Yes.

Should the man who bought a home yesterday under conditions established by society be robbed of the fruit of his labor by having the value of the land taken by society? I say no. Why not tell the truth about Houston, that the real cause of her prosperity is common to all Texas? I say not own that our sister city, Pueblo, is in such a wretched muddle that they will not try to use it in new system this year? Why attempt to delude each voter into believing that another will suffer and not he himself?

Having already a great number of empty houses, would it not be as idle to build more as to erect office buildings for imaginary tenants? Is it not an economic waste to tear down and throw away useful buildings? If not, are not fire and flood enriching? It is truly written: "To him that hath shall be given, and from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath." Please pardon my seeming vehemence.

My good neighbors have convicted me of selfishness. The neighbor who slammed the door is also penitent, and says with tears that what is only a theory to happy youth, with nothing to lose, is the ruin for her.

BANK STOCK HOLDER, Colorado Springs, Jan. 28.

To the Editor of The Gazette:
After a strenuous study of the single tax, for and against, I have failed to see where anyone would be benefited by the adoption of it. The lazy and ignorant would have the satisfaction of seeing everything taken from the rightful owners and turned over to the state; for that will be the culmination of the enforcement of the single tax; confiscation of all land, and that means the doing away of private ownership of all property. While confiscation of the land takes place, it will include buildings for the large stone and brick business blocks cannot be removed, nor residences; and the single taxers are aware of this; and even if the buildings were removable, where could they be removed? To the same prohibitive foundation—land.

It is stated that the single tax was carried in Pueblo by the negroes and the ignorant foreign element (Poles, Hungarians, etc.). It has not been enforced yet, and the holders of real estate cannot give it away, because everyone realizes what the single tax will accomplish.

The single taxers' chief hobby is to force upon the people the improvement of all land, whether warranted or not.

A prominent real estate dealer of our city says, "Colorado Springs has the housing facilities, both business and residence, for 100,000 persons," and yet under the single tax we shall be compelled to erect buildings whether they are wanted or occupancy or not.

The chief asset of Colorado Springs is beauty, due to our large, well-kept lawns. These will necessarily be abandoned, because the people cannot afford to pay the exorbitant increase of the tax on the unimproved lot, and will have to place a building thereon in order to secure some means to pay the tax. Remember this: With all the taxation of everything taxable, from the dog on up, it has been a desperate struggle for all of us to avoid confiscation and meet the required tax. Consider how the taxation of land values must be increased to meet the city's revenue, through the abolition of all personal tax. The property owners will never be able to meet this unjust method of taxation, and the single taxer is aware of this, and his dream will be realized when confiscation takes place. Bear in mind, also, the single tax does not cover the state, county or place.

Colorado Springs, Jan. 28.

To the Editor of The Gazette:
I would refer "A Bank Stock Holder" and others to a page article on "Single Tax in Western Canada," in Harper's Weekly for January 24, page 10, written by John T. McRoy. It is too long for the open Parliament, and I quote only a couple of paragraphs, though the whole article should be read to get a better view of the practical application of the system.

"In British Columbia for local purposes all the large cities and towns, such as Vancouver, Victoria and Prince Rupert, tax land values only. Improvements of every kind and all kinds are excluded from taxation. The provincial taxes, whether personal property income or poll, still exist. The value of land is taxed more heavily in proportion as it is held out of use. A lot held for speculation is discriminated against by a higher rate. In Alberta and Saskatchewan, land-value taxation is compulsory throughout the province. Neither improvements nor personal property is in any way taxed. Provincial taxes in a small degree remain. In Manitoba, land is practically the basis of agricultural taxation. Stock, implements, etc. are not taxed. In Winnipeg the assessment of buildings is only two-thirds that of land."

"There can be no doubt that this policy has immensely increased the quantity and quality of improvements. Building in the towns and country is out of all proportion to the growth of population. Medicine Hat had a 10 per cent increase in 1912. Edmonton adopted the pure land-value tax in 1912. The figures for buildings were $1,250,000 for 1912 against $2,187,000 for 1913. Towns of 30,000 inhabitants show as much increase in buildings and improvements as American cities of 200,000 population. The exemption from taxation of business has resulted in industries multiplying and improving their plants to the highest degree. Stores are not afraid of being penalized for doing business as buildings. It has also relieved the cost of doing business, thus affording an improved service for the same money to the consumer. While the towns will have to slacken the rate of growth, one fact seems to be indisputable. It is that unwise taxation has been shown to have more effect in checking building, farm improvements and business than is commonly supposed."

The poor man who has a lot in the United States and improves it finds himself confronted with an increased tax in Western Canada. This shows a very real advantage.

O. L. SPURIN, Colorado Springs, Jan. 28.

I am glad to see that the single tax movement is being discussed in your paper. It is a very important question, and one that should be given the most careful consideration.

IN THE EARLY DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 30, 1914. JANUARY 30, 1894.

A large number of people from the outlying parts of the county were in town for the purpose of paying their taxes.

E. C. Bartlett had withdrawn from the Pike Peak avenue shop and was devoting his whole time to his blacksmith shop on Huerfano street.

Burglars were said to be operating in various parts of the city, but so far had been scared away before they had succeeded in stealing anything.

WALL STREET WITH WILSON ON HIS TRUST PROGRAM

From the Progressive News Service.
The most important public event of last week in Washington was President Wilson's message to congress of January 20, outlining his program of promised trust legislation. The message was received with great enthusiasm by the Democrats and with a little commendation from Republicans. The Progressive view of the president's propositions was admirably expressed by Victor Murdock, floor leader of the Progressives in the house of representatives, in the following statement:

"The plan proposed by the president for a solution of the trust evil is inadequate. Like all inadequate plans, it will render the trust evil more acute. It will not remedy the evil. It will have been attacking the form of vicious combinations, not their substance. We spent a quarter of a century hailing the Standard Oil company before the court of last resort. And in the end we changed nothing but the form of the trust. We did not change it in fact at all."

"It will do no good to continue this attack upon the form of things. The president is well intentioned, but so long as there are reactionary forces in his party he cannot get results in this problem. The trust bills which I introduced for the Progressive party have no compromise with the reactionaries. Only a new party could enact them, and if enacted and administered by a new party, free from the embarrassment of reactionary elements, they would do the business. Until that time we will continue to flounder."

Vastly more significant than any of the Democratic or Republican praise of the message was the unanimous and heartfelt shout of praise and thanksgiving that went up from Wall Street. The moment that big "E" flashed the message it was recognized that at last it had got to the heart of the matter. George J. Gould, who wanted so long to see the stock exchange practically suspended while the brokers gathered around the tickers and followed the reassuring declarations of the president, word by word. The market reports say that there was a "general advance after President Wilson's views were known." They speak of a "stronger tone" in the market, and there is unanimous agreement as to the effect of the message.

"The New York World report says: 'Throughout the financial district there was general satisfaction over the message, which was regarded as marking a new era in the relations between the government and the business. Many prominent financiers showed great satisfaction.'"

The following are extracts from the World's interview with Wall Street men about the message:
George J. Gould—"I feel encouraged. My attitude for a long time has been one of extreme conservatism. The sentiment is more cheerful, and I believe that business will be better. I do not think that the abolition of interlocking directorates will prove so troublesome or disturbing to the corporations as has been feared in some circles."
Daniel G. Reid, head of the Rock Island syndicate—"Very reassuring. Harriman & Co." The message continues the support of the public.

The construction theory is already being carried out by the general public. The public is the best judge of the situation.

The public is the best judge of the situation. The public is the best judge of the situation. The public is the best judge of the situation.

The public is the best judge of the situation. The public is the best judge of the situation. The public is the best judge of the situation.

The public is the best judge of the situation. The public is the best judge of the situation. The public is the best judge of the situation.

The public is the best judge of the situation. The public is the best judge of the situation. The public is the best judge of the situation.

The public is the best judge of the situation. The public is the best judge of the situation. The public is the best judge of the situation.
